

Rockingham Forest Carvers

Rockingham Forest Carvers promote Woodcarving in all its forms

The Club invites members who are young and old, male and female. All the present members are amateurs, with the exception of, Glyn Mould who is a professional carver who teaches the craft of woodcarving and runs the classes.

Apart from the classes, members meet from time to time at a club night, or event such as Christmas dinner, a visiting speaker, demonstrator or to visit to a place of interest.

These events are generally subsidised by the club, but members can bring along a partner or friend for whom a small charge will be made.

The Club is run by an elected Committee who operate under the Club's Constitution.

The Committee consists of:

Chairman,

Treasurer,

Secretary,

Membership Secretary,

and other ex-officio members. All officers are volunteers.

Do I need to be a good carver?

You do not need to even be a carver to join the Club.

A lot of people seem to begin woodcarving after being interested in a different form of working with wood or another material. i.e. woodturning, fretwork etc.

Even if you have no experience at all, it is quite easy to start from scratch at one of Glyn Mould's classes.

Also, do not worry about having any tools. They are all at hand in the class and you will be given advice of what to purchase, if necessary, and how to care for them.

If you are interested in woodcarving and would enjoy the social atmosphere of the club, meeting other members and to take part in its various activities please fill out the form on the right.

The Club is a member of the British Woodcarving Association and represents the East Midlands region.

You can approach woodcarving through becoming a member of the BWA and be an associate member of RFC.
